U. P.-S. P. DISSOLUTION PLAN IS AGREED TO BY WASHINGTON OFFICIALS

McReynolds and Railroad Representatives Willing to Exchange S. P. Stock for B. & O. Holdings of Pennsylvania

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Attorney-General McReynolds and representatives of the Union Pacific it was learned today have reached an agreement for the dissolution of the Harriman merger. The principles of the plan are in harmony with the views of President Wilson and he is expected to approve. It will be submitted Monday to the judges of the Eighth Circuit United States Court at St. Paul. The plan will go to the court with the government's approval, qualified only by a request that the judges give a limited time before entering a final decree, during which the government may possibly make objections, which cannot now be foreseen.

Attorney General McReynolds does not expect to go to St. Paul, but will send T. D. Carroll, special assistant, who has been associated in the negotiations.

EXCHANGE OF STOCK.

Attorney General McReynolds today said he was not ready to discuss the situation or details. It is understood, however, the plan will provide for exchanging $35,000,000 of Southern Pacific stock held by the Union Pacific for the Pennsylvania's interest in Baltimore and Ohio and the sale of the remaining $38,000,000 of Southern Pacific through the medium of a trust company under such safeguards as will end control of the Southern Pacific by either the Union Pacific or its shareholders.

Officials declared that President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds had been in perfect accord all along to reach an agreement for the dissolution, provided a plan could be evolved that would meet the demands of the Sherman law. It was declared that while there never had been any tendency to place obstacles in the way of an agreement, the administration had insisted on an "adequate dissolution."

U. S. TAKES PRECAUTION.

The plan evolved, it is believed, will accomplish it, but the government takes the precaution of asking for a limited time within which to make objections, so that in case public discussion of the proposition and further study by officials shows any weaknesses, the hands of the administration will not be tied.

As the plan of dissolution does not provide for the separation of the Southern and Central Pacific, officials of the department of justice today reiterated that Attorney General McReynolds lacks on would bring the civil suit under the Sherman law to accomplish that result.

An effort now is being made to have the judges of the United States court for the eighth circuit, who sit at St. Paul on Monday, make public out of respect to the court, it is said, until the plan is presented.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Eugene J. Sullivan of San Francisco, president of the Sierra-Blue Lakes Water and Power Company, telegraphed the House public lands committee today that reports of water shortage in that city were untrue and framed for political effect. Chairman Ferris read the telegram to the committee.

"Officials merely deceiving your committee as they already have deceived Mr. Freeman and the army board," the message said. "We shall have serious scandal, as the army board accepted false data in good faith, but did not give sufficient time for personal investigation. Respectfully ask time to prepare data and present proof to your committee. Please consider this an official communication."

(City Attorney Long, San Francisco, O'Shaughnessy and California representatives in Congress who were present protested against the statement.)

HEARINGS HELD UP.
Representative Kahn said that Sullivan had reflected on the army board and requested the committee to summon him. The committee finally telegraphed Sullivan it would hold the hearings open until July 7, when he would be expected to testify.

Representative Knowland testified yesterday he had carefully examined the bill, and it met with his unqualified approval. He pointed out the growth of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda, and described their increasing needs for more water, and said that some provision must be made to meet the water needs of the rapidly growing bay cities.

SOME PAPERS PREJUDICIAL.

After struggling for two hours with the mass of documents forwarded by the attorney general the committee was forced to take a recess to attend a session of the House. Chairman Clayton said McReynolds had submitted all the papers in the case. "Among these," he said, "are many which if made public might prejudice the trials of these cases. The committee desires to weed out all the papers relating to the postponement of the case and until that has been done the correspondence will not be made public."

MAY STOP RESOLUTIONS.

When the committee resumed it was decided that portions of the correspondence relating to the postponement of the cases probably would be presented to the House next Wednesday, with a report which may recommend that the Kahn resolutions be laid on the table since the object of their introduction had been accomplished.

The committee will make none of the correspondence public until the matter has been prepared for the House, Chairman Clayton announced.

ADVISES DUST TO STOP CHINCH BUGS

Kansas Farmer Adviser Tells Farmers How to Stop Destructive Pests.

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., June 28.—The chinchbug situation in Leavenworth county was discussed at length at the regular monthly meeting of the Leavenworth Progressive Agricultural Club, which was held this week in the high school auditorium.

There are two ways in general of checking the migration of the chinchbugs from wheat to cornfields, said Mr. Ross. "The first is known as the dust barrier and the second the road oil or tar barrier."

"The dust barrier can be divided into two types, the single and double furrow. The latter is made by plowing a strip about ten feet wide between the infested wheat field and the adjoining corn field and then reducing the soil to dust by dragging and harrowing with a brush drag. A heavy dust is then dragged along the plowed strip until two deep furrows are formed, the sides and bottom of which are covered with a deep, fine dust. Bugs have great difficulty in getting across these furrows.

"The dust barriers work well in dry weather. In wet weather oil or tar is turned up by plowing, with the top of the ridge sharp. By the use of a trough drag which reduces the dirt to dust, while a small hole, 2 1/2 inches in diameter, on the under side of the trough, cuts out a ditch along the ridge. In this ditch No. 7 road oil is applied. This plan has proved effective in wet weather. Tar can be substituted for the oil, but is more expensive.

"The above methods are used only to check the migration of the bugs, and when checked, they congregate in large numbers and can be destroyed by dragging a log through the furrows. Fog holes can be dug along the furrows when the bugs drop in they can be destroyed with a gasoline torch."

LIVELY DEBATE IN SENATE CAUCUS

Tariff Rates on Manufactures of Wool Are Subject of Argument.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Lively discussions developed today in the Senate caucus over the rates on manufactures of wool. The low tariff champions urged that manufactured woolen goods should go to the free list. Woolen cloth, dutiable in the bill at 25 cents and stockings at 20 per cent were among the items which some Senators declared should enter free of duty to aid in reducing the cost of living.

Senator Ashurst brought the debate to a climax with an amendment to transfer to the free list all woolen manufactures such as stockings, cloth, ready-made clothing, blankets and the like. The amendment was debated until 1 o'clock, when all proposals to place any woolen manufactured goods on the free list were voted down. No record vote was taken.

The action of the caucus last night in putting cotton thread on the free list was not reopened and no further objection to the change is expected.

CONTINUES FIGHT AGAINST FERRY

Company to Press Case for Damages Against "Aquatic Club."

VALLEJO, June 23.—When the legislature passed a measure permitting the employees of the navy yard at Mare Island to band together to provide transportation to their place of employment, it did not bring the Scholastic Aquatic Club entirely out of the woods, apparently. Counsel for the Vallejo Ferry Company served notice today that it would ask the court to set for trial the case of the ferry company against the club, which is an organization of the workmen, for $50,000 damages brought over a year ago when a permanent injunction against the club was issued. The company also served notice that it would ask the court to set for trial the case against the Aquatic Club for $50,000 damages.

STAY AWAY FROM CHURCH—FOR SHORT WHILE—PASTOR'S ADVICE

ST. LOUIS, June 23.—"Quit your church and take a rest." Such was the advice given this congregation and the city in general by Rev. Leon Milton Burkhead, pastor of the Wagoner Memorial M. E. church, here today. To set an example for the "religious vacation" he will close his church for a month, will go north and will not attend any church service.

"People in this country hear too much preaching of the gospel anyway," he said. "Many are so constantly in the presence of an appeal to higher things that they become calloused. Staying away from church will rest the heart strings. You will come back more responsive to spiritual things."

OLD CITY HALL GIVEN
ITS OFFICIAL CREMATIONDowntown Club Symbolizes Passing of Three-Story Shack With Appropriate
Ceremonies

The white shaft of granite which comprises the main tower of the new city hall glowed red against the dark background of the sky last night in the fiery light from the old city hall. Every window in the old hall flashed fire. Crowds gathered in the streets to watch the spectacle.

The occasion was the burning of the old city hall by members of the Downtown Improvement Club. The ceremony was conducted by a committee of marshals, who made speeches, sang songs and serenaded about the streets in celebration of the ending of the old city hall, which has been an obstruction to the opening of Washington street and an eyesore in the business district for many years.

The old structure was officially "burned" last night amid general rejoicing. Several thousand people gathered in the streets to watch the Downtown club at work celebrating the demise of the old hall.

GRAFT CASES MAY

Conclude Conspiracy Trial
Wednesday Next.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—District Attorney Fickert said today that he expected the case of Detective Sergeant Arthur Macphie and Charles Taylor, charged with conspiracy, to go to the jury about Wednesday next. It is probable that the prosecution will commence summing up testimony Monday. Detective Macphie took the stand yesterday afternoon in his own behalf and denied emphatically practically all of the adverse testimony given against him by "Chito" Ravigo and other bunco men. It is probable that the prosecution will lay considerable stress on the testimony given by Detective McHugh, who said on the stand Thursday that the eight indicted policemen, among whom were Macphie and Taylor, had "agreed to stand together" during the conference held in Golden Gate Park following the grand jury's return of indictment.

FAMOUS SLINGSBY
CASE IN LONDONChild Substitution Suit on Trial
Before High Tribunal of England.

LONDON, June 23.—The case of Lieutenant Charles Reynard Slingsby of San Francisco to establish rights to estates and property in Yorkshire, was mentioned in the High Court of Justice yesterday. This is the case which has been pending in the courts for some time over the estate left by Rev. Charles Slingsby, father of Lieutenant Slingsby, which yields an income of $50,000 a year. Lieutenant Slingsby, who is the eldest son, claims a share of the child. His claim is disputed by the younger brother on the ground that a child was substituted for the lieutenant for the purpose of obtaining this claim upon the English estate.

The charge was made in California that Lieutenant Slingsby's wife had substituted the child of Sonoma county high school girl for her own, soon after his birth.

Those connected with the transaction refused to state the price, and as the deed shows only a nominal consideration and Borden still retains an interest in the property, it was impossible to ascertain the amount.

CLIFFORD WILL CROSS
ATLANTIC IN AEROPLANE

NEW YORK, June 23.—To attempt a flight across the Atlantic ocean in a hydro-aeroplane, using frozen petrol as fuel, Frank Clifford arrived yesterday on board the Mauretania. He will start from Atlantic City in a monoplane, and says he expects to take on a new supply of petrol in midatlantic from a boat to be stationed there. He gives himself thirty hours to make the trip, and says that it is as long as he could keep the aeroplane going. He intends to melt the frozen petrol as he flies.

Clifford says the monoplane will easily fly 100 miles an hour. Leaving Atlantic City Monday evening, he expects to reach the Irish coast Wednesday morning, and perhaps continue to London.

CLAIMS JUDICIARY COMMITTEE IS JOKE

J. Probst told the city council last night that he refused to be a joke any longer. He said that the newspaper had indicated that the judiciary committee of the city council is a joke and that the contention is right. Probst declared that only one meeting had been held in six years and then the subject had no right in the city but was referred subsequently to the city attorney.

"This committee is the biggest joke we have," he declared, "and I move that the committee be abolished."

Councilman E. B. Bullock, also a member of the committee, seconded the motion. Councilman Alfred Morgenstern stated that the judiciary might be used some time in the future and that he was opposed to abolishing it as it might some day become of use.

SALOON LICENSE IS TAKEN AWAY

The Alameda Council Refuses to Grant Renewal to Mills After Much Talk.

ALAMEDA, June 28.—The liquor license of E. C. Mills for a saloon and liquor store at Walnut street and 12th street was revoked last night by the city council after a long and at times spirited debate. Most of the speeches were in favor of the license, but the council decided to revoke it.

Whether or not the council will later grant this license to some other applicant for a saloon in a new section is not known, but it appears to be definitely established that a new applicant for a license for this same location will receive no consideration.

FORMALLY WARNS AUTO SPEEDERS

District Attorney Hynes Issues Notice to All Touring Motorists.

Formal warning that the speed limit on county roads will be enforced, as decided by the board of supervisors, was given this morning when an open letter to all motorists was issued by District Attorney W. H. Hynes. The letter warns that prompt arrest will follow any violation of the law.

The letter is issued as a warning because in the past speeding has not been punished, and the district attorney feels that some warning should be given before arrests are made.

The warning issued by Hynes reads as follows:

Notice to motorists touring through Alameda county—Owing to the large number of accidents which have occurred in Alameda county, outside the corporate limits of the City of Oakland, within the last six or seven months, as a result of fast and reckless driving of automobiles and motorcycles, the Board of Supervisors of Alameda county has determined that all motor drivers must strictly comply with the State law.

As the District Attorney of Alameda county, I consider it only fair that motorists from this and other counties should be notified of our intention to enforce the law.

You will, therefore, take notice that the Sheriff of Alameda county has been instructed to rigidly enforce the law with reference to the speed of automobiles and motorcycles, beginning on the first day of July, 1932. All persons violating the State law with reference to the speed of automobiles and motorcycles, after July 1, 1932, will be taken into custody. It is my intention, as the District Attorney of this county, to keep a complete record of all violations of the speed law in Alameda county. First offenders will be fined, but, in the case of second and third offenders, I shall make it my business to try to see that a severe punishment be inflicted upon persistent violators of the law.

PAINTS OBSCENE CHARGE ON HOUSE

Hayward's "Jack the Painter" Again Outrages Reputation of Respected Woman.

HAYWARD, June 28.—A second deplorable attempt to harm the reputation of well-known Hayward people was perpetrated yesterday by a house painter of the town of Hayward.

The house painter, who is known as "Jack the Painter," was charged with painting the front of the Native Sons' hall with writing of an obscene nature in large letters. On a previous occasion the front of the Native Sons' hall was painted over with writing of a similar nature, casting aspersions on the character of a Hayward in the morning, and Constable W. J. Rana and Marshal Charles Schilling had the whole face of the building repainted in order to obliterate the writing.

The authorities are of the opinion that the writing on the building on the county road, is the work of the same person who painted the lettering on the Native Sons' hall.

The writing was neatly done with white paint, and was evidently done with malice. Both the marshal and constable have been informed of the obscene writing.

would lead to the discovery of the perpetrator of the outrage. A detective may be employed to follow up the case.

The author of the writing on the county road building evidently intended that the infamous wording should have publicity, as the letters were large and conspicuous.

APRICOT PICKING WILL BEGIN SOON

Crop in San Leandro District About 75 Per Cent of Last Year's.

SAN LEANDRO, June 28.—Apricot picking will commence in the San Leandro orchards next week. The apricot crop in San Leandro district this year has been retarded by the lack of moisture, several orchards having suffered more than others in this respect. Thus the yield in quantity and quality in some orchards is up to the average, while in other cases it is away below the average. Taking the crop as a whole, according to authoritative sources, it will amount to within only 75 per cent of that of last year, in quantity, and within 50 per cent of a full crop.

Orchardists in this district are looking forward to good prices for apricots this season.

TRUCK ENGINEER VISITING COAST

C. B. Caruthers of the G. M. C. Factory Compares Street Conditions.

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)

C. B. Caruthers, service engineer of the General Motors Truck Company at Pontiac, Mich., arrived in San Francisco today, and will remain on the Pacific coast for a period of five or six weeks looking over street conditions and the possibility of placing a number of G-M-C trucks in the principal cities on the coast, such as San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland, Portland and Seattle. During Caruthers' stay in San Francisco he is making his headquarters with the Pioneer Motor Truck Corporation, the coast representative of the G-M-C trucks.

"We have a number of G-M-C trucks in the eastern cities," Caruthers says, "and we expect to have a large quantity of them in the various cities on the Pacific coast. The purpose of this visit is to see how the streets are equal to the use of these trucks."

The question of street conditions in San Francisco, that is, the hills and rough paved thoroughfares, has been brought to the notice of our factory, and I must say that during the three or four days I have been here investigating the state of affairs, I have found that the streets in San Francisco are not nearly as bad as they are claimed to be. In looking over the principal cities on the coast, we find that the streets in other cities where the street conditions are equally as bad as here, if not worse.

MURDER TRIAL IS HALTED BY DEATH

Mysterious End of James L. Bacon Lends Color to His Defense.

CHIPPENHAW, Colo., June 28.—Death late yesterday afternoon halted the prosecution of James L. Bacon, resident of this city and former Colorado legislator, charged with the murder of his wife and 6-year-old step-daughter, May 27, when the Bacon home here was destroyed by an explosion of dynamite.

Early yesterday morning Bacon, in his cell at the county jail, committed suicide, according to the jail officials, from the results of which he died during the afternoon.

Up until the moment of his death Bacon was conscious and stoutly maintained his innocence of the murder charge, and declared also that he did not intend to wound upon himself from which he died.

He reiterated his assertion that two masked men entered his cell at daybreak Thursday morning and attacked him, leaving him unconscious from his terrible wounds.

DYNAMITE MYSTERY.

The dynamiting of the Bacon home last May remained a mystery for some while. Mrs. Bacon and her daughter were in the house preparing to get breakfast. Bacon also was in the house, but on the upper floor. The wife and child were instantly killed, and Bacon was desperately hurt, remaining unconscious for two days. Upon his recovery he told of receiving threatening letters and attributing the tragedy to the author of them. Later he went to Denver and attended the funeral of his wife and daughter, at which he was arrested and charged with the crime.

Immediately upon being incarcerated Bacon began a hunger strike which he maintained with a degree of faithfulness until a few days ago.

CHINESE BUY RICH LAND IN THE VALLEY

STOCKTON, June 28.—Deeds were recorded yesterday showing that a syndicate of Chinese, composed of Woe Foon and Woe Sang of San Francisco and Woe Kie and Woe Hung Joy of this county, has purchased a large interest in Venice island, which is one of the most fertile sections in the state. The island belongs to the Venice Island Land Company and contains 3432 acres, divided into 15 camps.

The property is all irrigated, being surrounded with levees and having a system of irrigation. The Chinese have bought camp 2 outright, paying, it is said, $27,435, and an interest in the levees and irrigation system. The soil is particularly adapted for potato growing and has netted its owners a fortune.

GOSSIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

Another Romance of Hospital

The marriage of Eliza Partridge and Dr. Thomas Addis is another hospital romance that throws a glamour over the profession of nursing, and makes so many young girls rush in where angels fear to tread. Eliza Partridge, was one of the society belles who forsook the gay glitter of social life, to become a Florence Nightingale or a Clara Barton, who devoted their lives to ministering to the ill to which flesh is heir. The thrilling part of it all is that the bride and groom met over the operating table in the Lane Hospital.

Dr. Addis is a Scotchman, and was a graduate of the University of Edinburgh. He came over from the Bonnie Highlands with Dr. James Eaves, who married Helen Leavitt. Both were well known abroad, and both entered Lane's Hospital. Dr.

arduous, and the horrors of the hospital too much for her delicate nature. A few weeks of it was all that she could stand. She was out of training some time before she became Mrs. Ford. With Miss Partridge, however, she took the entire course and came out with flying colors. She would not allow Cupid to interfere with her duties until she obtained her diploma. —News Letter.

Western Possibilities

Herbert Kauffman, the brilliant editor of the Woman's World, author, poet, editorial writer and sententious commentator, believes that the literary pendulum of the nation is swinging westward. When he was out here to attend the Bohemian Club links last year he said: "Ten years ago every editor in the East looked for Western material. Then there

A Newspaper Veteran

To the new generation of journalists Amos Stillman is not a name or a memory. Most of them never heard of "Deacon" Stillman, who laid aside his pencil and retired from the office of the New York Sun, where he had been editing copy for forty-three years. In the earlier days of San Francisco journalism a good deal about the New York Sun and its methods was heard in local newspaper offices, because Charles de Young brought out a good many Sun reporters to work on the Chronicle. In those days the editorial department of the Chronicle was managed by Charles de Young. His brother, M. H. de Young, was business manager. A better division of labor could not have been made, because each of the position. After the death of Charles de Young his chief editorial assistant, John P. Young, was made managing editor, and was found a valuable assistant in the rapid upbuilding of the newspaper.

In those early days the Sun was regarded by most American journalists as a model of cleverness. It was undeniable that its reportorial staff was the most brilliant in the country. The Sun's star reporters who were brought out to join the staff of the Chronicle set a standard which had much to do in making San Francisco newspaper writers in later years desirable additions to the staffs of leading New York publications.

The severely discriminating blue pencil of "Deacon" Amos Cummings had much to do in making the reportorial staff of the New York Sun. When Stillman laid down his pencil the other day he was in his 77th year. When in his early sixties he met his employer, the late Charles A. Dana, on the stairway one day, "Deacon" he said, "how old are you?" "What? Sixty so and so? Why, I am 76 today. Deacon, you're a mere kid." —The Wasp.

Art's the Fad This Summer

This summer the younger set of girls has gone in heavily for art. There is Louise Janin who took prizes for her modeling last spring and who is working at clay models in New Hampshire where she has a studio in the summer home of her relatives. Down at Carmel the Williams girls and Miss Mary Gayley of Berkeley are established for a season of sketching and serious art work with Miss Fortune, an artist from Edinburgh. Both Florence and Corona Williams have done creditable work and some of their sketches hang on the walls of their devoted grandmother's mansion in Laguna street. Then there are the Fee girls of whom Marcia, the elder who made her debut several years ago, has exceptional talent. She has been a student at the Art Institute for three years and has done sketches around Monterey where the Fees spend much time at Del Monte. The poets and novelists of the younger set, Miss Janet Von Schroeder, Marian Angeliotti et al. are out of it. Painters and sculptors are to the fore. —Town Talk.

Sufficient unto the Day

Charles Dickman, the artist, was riding on a Hyde-street car the other day, and when the car approached Vallejo street he was mightily surprised to hear the conductor bawl out "Val-ya-ho!" Dickman is an enthusiast for the correct pronunciation of Spanish names, and thus to hear a conductor serving the pronunciation purists in this volunteer fashion pleased him greatly. It pleased him so much he thought he would have to compliment the conductor, and he made his way back through the car where the conductor was leaning against the rear brakes quite unconscious that he had stirred such a commotion with his "Val-ya-ho!" Dickman finally reached him. "I want to shake your hand," he said, enthusiastically. "It's a fine thing to hear you conductors taking an interest in the correct pronunciation of our Spanish names! How did you come to do it? Was it your own idea or did the company insist on it?" The transfer puncher looked at Dickman for some time with a puzzled expression. Finally a light dawned and a beatific smile illuminated his swarthy features. "Ah, I see," he said, finally. "No, it's my name, too, mister; Joe Vallejo." —The Wasp.

Another Tea Story

J. D. Barry, one of the San Francisco Bulletin's "sch squadders," and his predilection for tea brought out a story about John A. Moroso, author of the "Quarry," and Richard Watson Gilder. The story is told by a newspaperman here who knows Moroso well. Moroso was on an assignment from a New York paper to a southern town and he was proceeding part of his journey by boat down the Mississippi. In his grip he had a flash, as befits a gentleman of the Fourth Estate traveling through the genial South. The grips had been jumbled up and he had to go in search of his. Away down in the baggage room he saw another man also endeavoring to identify a hand grip. Moroso got his first and pulled out the flask. "Pardon me," he said, "I guess you're looking for the same thing I was. Will you please accept my hospitality until you locate your bag?" and he extended the flask toward the other.

"Sir," came back the freezing response, "I am Richard Watson Gilder and I am most emphatically not searching for a flask. I am—in search of some beef-tea tablets I have in my bag." —The Wasp.

A Career That Promised

When Allan Dunn came here from England he had the prestige of an Oxford degree, and his flashy facility with pen and pencil winning him admission to clubmen, he made his clubs the stepping stone to smart society. Allan Dunn could write showily if not brilliantly; he could paint and draw well enough. He could turn a sonnet or a sulphuric phrase, frame a set of verses suitable for the annual exhibition at the Bohemian Club. Look in Who's Who and you will find that Allan Dunn has published several things. There was his Songs of the Yosemite which Doctor Humphrey Stewart set to music. There was more recently his "Carefree San Francisco," a carefree characterization of the city which might have been much better if Allan Dunn had ever learned the literary discipline which practices the labor of the file by the light of the midnight oil. But any sort of discipline was alien to Allan Dunn.

Allan Dunn is a conspicuous victim of the tragedy of San Francisco clubdom. In our clubs all who have the knack of writing or painting or talking glibly reach an easy distinction. With us the dilettante gains swift recognition; where there are few connoisseurs, superficial cleverness is honored out of all proportion to its merit. The result of this heady triumph is too often ruin. The pace is too fast, and while there are always fair weather friends to lend assistance when club bills must be met and there are no funds to meet them with, the end is usually submergence. Many a man has been ruined by the foolish attempt to keep up with the extravagant spenders of the local clubs; some are being ruined just that way at the present time. But there are always others to take their places. In Allan Dunn's case the ruin is complicated by disarray. That has happened to others too. —Town Talk.

A Sesnon House Party

The Bohemian Club, or part of it, has been promised another party at Billy Sesnon's place near Capitola where one of the most delightful affairs in club annals was given a year or so back. For this the Sesnons "chartered" the hotel at Capitola where scores of Bohemians and their wives were their guests for several days with others in the Sesnon house. The place is one of the most attractive country homes in the State. The house is colonial and lined with art treasures of every period and style, principally oriental. The hall is a masterpiece of carved oak and Mrs. Sesnon frequently receives her guests there clad in embroidered Chinese robes. With a colonial exterior and Oriental interior the hospitality of the Sesnon house is distinctively Spanish Cal.

What Does Dr. Aked Find in America?

of why he became an American citizen. The principal reason is that he has been from childhood a believer in liberty—the word "monarchy" was a stigma in his nostrils. Prisoners Were Properly Pickled

Here's a beautiful technical question. Two prisoners at the Oakland City Jail, engaged in removing furniture from the old police station to the new, disappeared. Hours afterwards they returned, more than satisfactorily intoxicated. They had found several bottles of liquor held as evidence, and not being sure of the evidence of their own eyes, they drank the liquor to make sure. They were hilariously certain when they came back at nine o'clock at night. But the technical question is, was the evidence destroyed? It might be argued that it had been, for it had disappeared, there being naught but empty bottles. Yet in the two prisoners the evidence was stronger that the liquor was genuine than the mere sight of it in the bottles would have been. So the episode when blind pigs and other such places are raided, and the goods seized, hunt up a few volunteers to make a test of the goods that the judge or the jury may be sure that they are alcoholic. The only drawback, of course, is that volunteers would be hard to find. —News Letter.

The Decline and Fall of Dunn

When Allan Dunn pawned the jeweled brooch he had stolen from the home of a woman friend he signed the name of Elbert Hubbard to the pawn ticket. It was like Allan Dunn to do that. He could not take the criminal situation so soberly enough to refrain from a characteristic witicism. Allan Dunn could no more resist the temptation to jest than he could resist the temptation to steal. Cursed with a facility that carried him along the line of least resistance, he pursued his primrose path to ruin with an easy smile and a tongue tipped with glibness. To the mind of Allan Dunn the world owed him a living and he collected the debt indiscriminately from friend and stranger, wasting no anxiety on the danger of such a course and reserving his tears until he was found out. His derelictions are bound to shock everybody who knew him more than they shock himself. His was "the good old rule, the simple plan, that they should keep who have the power, and they should keep who can." Because his lines were cast in polite places he practiced that system of the corner rakers on the men and women who liked him for his showy qualities and made him their guest at home or house party. —Town Talk.

Burgess to Write the Grove Play

Gelett Burgess is going to write the next grove play for the Bohemian Club. I think this is an interesting announcement, for it seems to mark the return of Burgess to serious work. For the past several years his literary output has been largely of the freakish variety. It has been "goopy" and "blubby," bounded on one side by the Maxims of Methusalem and on the other day by the impossibilities of Lady Macbeth. Perhaps Burgess has been the victim of a youthful indiscretion. He has never been quite able to live down the Purple Cow and the gaucheries of the period which saw its production. If Burgess settles himself seriously to work of the sort he did before the days of the Lark, he may produce something worthy of his talent. That little volume "A Gage of Youth" proved that Gelett could write poetry worth while. If he extends himself in the composition of the grove play of 1914 he will do his reputation a signal service. Burgess came here to visit his mother who has been quite ill at Santa Rosa, and has divided his time between Sonoma county and the Bohemian Club. —Town Talk.

Emil's Frosted Pane

Emil Brugulere, I am told, is the only man in Paris who wears a frosted monocle. Whether Emil can see through it or not the authority does not state, and it is immaterial anyway. A monocle is worn for its external interest. The frosted crystal must be particularly striking in its one-eyed effect. Trust Emil to do the striking things. The flash of the brilliant orange gloves is not forgotten in San Francisco. I am told the young dilettante is collaborating with Rene Fauchols on a work for the Opera Comique. Emil, presumably to write the music, and Fauchols the words. —Town Talk.

The Old Sleuth Loses

Here is a good one for those who enjoy yarns of the doings and misdoings of newspapermen and the ways and wiles of the craft. It includes a very prominent citizen who delivered an address at a Commonwealth Club luncheon quite recently, and who was billed to deliver the same address at a banquet at the Fairmont Hotel the same night; I say "billed to deliver" advisedly—the proof whereof soon appearing. On the Chronicle was a new reporter. We will call him Smith. Ed Bowles, city editor over there, wanted a copy of the speech. Smith was sent out, and after the eminent citizen had read his manuscript at the Commonwealth Club he handed it to Smith under the promise to have it back within a couple of hours.

The Lucky O'Connor Girls

Everyone says the O'Connor sisters are the luckiest girls in society so far as their friends are concerned. They are always being invited by some one to go some where. Last year Mrs. Will Taitt took them to Europe. The year before Mrs. Taitt took one of the sisters abroad, and this season Maud is with Mrs. Herman Oelrichs in Paris where they are having a gay visit. The secret of their luck, particularly Maud's, is very likely cheerful disposition and generous sense of humor that make for companionship. Maud is an ideal traveling companion and as anyone who has traveled knows, that is a rare thing to find. The two young ladies who departed on a tour of the world together two years ago and returned in the same way could testify to the strain travel places on perfectly good friendship. Maud O'Connor can be relied on to set through a trying trip without a break in her cheerful serenity. No wonder she is lucky in her friends. —Town Talk.

The Meddler

It is still some months before the great exposition across the bay will bring many distinguished people to our coast. But already there is keen rivalry among the many families in the local smart sets regarding the distinguished people to be entertained. Burlingame dearly loves a title, and it has a most wonderful faith in humanity, a most remarkable trust in luck, for everyone with a title is sure of a welcome—for him is hospitality unbounded in the midst of the smart set of Burlingame. The been cruelly imposed upon, have never been confided to an interested public. After all, homage was done to the title, and not to the man who assumed it.

Already there is the keenest rivalry among the various families as to which will secure the most distinguished guests. All the visiting delegations have been asked to return, and many of them have invitations to prominent homes down the peninsula.

Among those who may be counted on to entertain guests are Mrs. Eleanor Martin and the various members of the Hopkins family. The William Crocker will probably have the Poniatowskis as their guests, and the Tobins and Parrotts have a large circle of friends both in London and Paris. That is also true of the various members of the Spreckels family.

On our side of the bay there has not been the keen interest in titled foreigners. There has been a hearty welcome for guests who come properly accredited, and among the large homes in which guests are well and cordially entertained are "Highlands," Mrs. Regua's home; "Wildwood," the home of Frank Havens; the homes of Mrs. Chabot, Mrs. Moffitt, Mrs. MacDermot, Mrs. Schilling, Mrs. Henry Taylor, Mrs. Titus, Mrs. Creed, Mrs. Henshaw, Mrs. Clay, Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. Crellin, Mrs. E. B. Beck, Mrs. Spring, Mrs. Wetherbee, Mrs. Hush, Mrs. Wellman.

Many prominent families have relatives who are coming from the East, and there will be many entertainments arranged for them, aside from that provided by the great exposition itself.

COLOR STUDY OF 1915 FAIR TO BE WONDERFUL

One hears that the color study of the exposition is to be quite wonderful. The French artist, Jules Guerin, came to California to study the problem, and so he has given us California tones—"the vibrant tones of the native wild flowers, the soft browns of the surrounding hills, the gold of the oranges, the blue of the sea. How glad one is that white is to be eliminated."

"I resolved," he said, "that even the roofs should be harmoniously colored: so that when those who throng the avenues on the land side of the exhibition look down upon them they will see a great party-colored area of red tiles, golden domes and copper-green minarets." It is not only the color of the roof treatment, however, that will be effective when thus seen, but the roof colors will be enhanced and emphasized by the rich coloring of intervening courts that will be filled with greenery and gorgeous masses of bloom. Their color scheme also will be under Mr. Guerin's control. The total effect, undoubtedly, will be much as he has pictured it: "Imagine," said he, "a gigantic Persian rug of soft melting tones, with brilliant splashes here and there, spread down for a mile or more, and you may get some idea of what the Panama-Pacific exposition will look like when viewed from the distance, say of the Sausalito Heights across the Golden Gate."

So, while the smart set is preparing for the exposition, it is planning a social season, the like of which has never been known on the Pacific coast.

SHORT SUMMER TRIPS ARE GROWING POPULAR

Even though the call of the summer lies all fair on the land, there are some who respond to it only at sea. There are those who prefer short trips to nearby places of interest, and those also who motor for a few days, returning at intervals to their homes here. For Oakland has much to offer in the way of diversion in the heart of summer days. One hears of riding trips, walking expeditions, motoring to Lake country and to the south, and for other activities

Creed, Miss Pussy Creed, Miss Florence Henshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Titus, the Misses Rooney, Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens, Walter Leimert, Joseph Carlston, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Veitch, Mrs. Henshaw, Miss Grimes, Miss Farrier and Mrs. John Donovan may often be met on long walking trips, for they deem it no trouble to walk from our foothills into the heart of town.

For short trips one's friends often go to Del Monte, or to the many springs of Lake country. Del Monte will be the scene of the Fourth of July golf tournament and many members of the Claremont Club are going to historical Monterey for the holidays. England is the home of golf, and from England comes a severe criticism of American golfers.

BRITISH GOLF CLUBS BRUDDER WITH HORROR

A shudder of horror raised the gooseflesh throughout the aristocratic golf clubs of England this week when the members read of the "outrageous" conduct of an American visitor at a well known club near London. This is described by an arose a censorious admonitory hum from the other occupants of the room which contained audible references, such as 'bad form' ought to be stopped,' and the like. The American obviously noticed these remarks, but said nothing and went out to play. He behaved perfectly but I tremble to think what he must have thought of my English gentlemen."

All sorts of editorials have been called out by this "unseemly action" on the part of the American, and the consensus of opinion is against him. On the tennis links men may play tennis without their coats, but they may not play golf. The authorities tell us that the short sleeve is proper for lawn tennis on the cricket field, but on a golf course it would look strange, and we are told as a final word:

"It is perfectly simple to obtain vestments of gossamer fabric for the rare occasions when the temperature of England is high. A coat of such light texture could not hamper or unduly heat a player."

In the golf clubs across the bay, and in Southern California, and in our own Claremont Club, a vivid interest is being taken in a question now before Eastern authorities.

The directors of the Western Golf Association probably will take up the question whether the trip of the "Mid-Western" golf team to the Pacific coast has tainted the travelers with "professionalism." Eastern golf authorities, it is said, have criticized the team for allowing the home clubs on the Coast to pay its expenses, which, they argue, is contrary to the spirit of pure amateurism. President Willard of the Western Golf Association said today that no formal charge of professionalism had been made, but said the directors expected to take up the matter.

Two golf tournaments are scheduled for the Fourth of July holidays—one at the Claremont Country Club, and one at Del Monte. The championship of the Claremont Club is held by Jack Neville, who is now directed work for others. An example of this is found in the honor accorded everywhere to Jane Addams, the noted philanthropist of Hull House, Chicago. She went abroad for the Woman's Industrial Congress, and on her way to Budapest, spent some days in Paris. Immediately large receptions were planned for her by many of the leading people of Paris, and it was quite remarkable the interest shown by the smart set of Paris, in the women who represented the suffrage movement in America. Progress seems truly to point the way down the road of the future.

At the reception given at the Elysees and Madame Poincaré, at the Elysees Palace, Miss Addams was easily the most distinguished guest.

Mme. Poincaré is a great admirer of all woman's work, and the social settlement question is one that is little known here and therefore her interest in it was all the keener for this reason.

The reception at the Elysees, which was attended by nearly all the delegates to the congress, was one of the largest affairs that have been given during this present regime, and it was one of the handsomest as well. All the superb salons were used, and the large garden was also placed at the disposal of the guests. An unusual feature was that there was music, a something generally unknown in Paris unless for a dance, and that this was taken as a matter of course by the visitors must have made the home members open their eyes in astonishment. Mme. Poincaré made a charming picture when receiving, and her toilet, all black and white, which Parisians thought nothing of, except that it was attractive and chic must have caused a sensation among the visitors.

The day following the president's reception the minister of foreign affairs and his wife entertained the congress, and at this also Miss Addams was one of the observed guests. Many strangers wished to be presented to her, for her reputation has preceded her, even as far as Paris.

MISS EMILY BAUER NOTABLE VISITOR

Among the notable visitors to California this summer is Miss Emily Bauer, the musical critic of New York whose name is known all over the country as one of the finest critics in America. She understands music thoroughly, and her criticisms are so fair, so impartially written, that all the leading singers have a profound respect and some of them a great affection for her. One of the and Mrs. Frank K. Mott gave a luncheon for her last week.

Among the guests who had the pleasure of meeting Miss Bauer at Mrs. Mott's beautifully planned luncheon were:

Mrs. Frank C. Havens, Mrs. J. H. Spring, Miss Mollie Connors, Mrs. Victor Metcalf and Mrs. Jackson, and Mrs. I. Lowenberg of San Francisco.

MISS MARGARET TAYLOR ENTERTAINS AT TEA

This afternoon Miss Margaret Taylor entertained at an informal tea at her home in Piedmont. The Samuel Barclay have built one of the most artistic brick homes of Upper Piedmont, and it makes a very delightful setting for social affairs. Miss Margaret Taylor is a graduate of the University of California, and a very popular girl, the true type of the American girl worth while. Miss Taylor made her guest of honor, Miss Grace Barvard, who returned to Oakland this week, after a year spent abroad. While in Italy, Miss Barvard spent some time in studying the Montessori system of education, which has created such a stir all over the world.

MRS. GEORGE HAMMER IS BRIDGE HOSTESS

Among the many summer hostesses is always Mrs. George Hammer, who makes guests very welcome in her home all through the year. Yesterday she was a bridge hostess, having planned a few tables of bridge, thereby entertaining her friends informally at a delightful afternoon.

MRS. J. W. McClymonds IS GUEST OF HONOR

Mrs. Dudley Kinsell was a hostess of yesterday, making her mother, Mrs. J. W. McClymonds, her guest of honor. About twenty of Mrs. McClymonds' friends were invited for luncheon and bridge. Mrs. Kinsell entertaining them at her home in Claremont Manor. It is a most attractive place—very picturesque—surrounded with lovely trees, and in the heart of the Claremont hills.

Mr. and Mrs. McClymonds have a large ranch in the San Joaquin district, on which they are planning to spend the greater part of this year. They will return to town for the winter and while they are away their home will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Vance McClymonds.

BLISS-PAINTER WEDDING IN SOCIETY BLUE BOOK

One of the notable June weddings was that of Dr. Philip Bliss of Santa Cruz and Miss Janet Painter, which took place this week in Alameda. Dr. Bliss is a graduate of Stanford, and a practicing physician of Santa Cruz, and his bride, who was pretty Janet Painter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Painter, and a niece of Dalton Harrison. She made her debut two seasons ago, and has gone out a great deal in San Francisco as well as over here. The ceremony took place in Christ Episcopal church in Alameda, and was followed by a reception at the Painter home, and many of the members of the smart set remaining in town were at both the church and the reception.

The bride's wedding gown was of the conventional white satin embroidered in pearls, and she wore also the conventional wedding veil—but the "bride's bouquet" was different from the established order of things, for it consisted of a shower of old fashioned flowers, which made a charming bit of color against the white back ground of the gown.

Miss Painter's gown was of taffeta, in American Beauty tones, with a shadow lace tunic, and she carried American Beauty roses to match the gown. The bridesmaids' gowns were in Parisian color tones of pink and blue—being of pink taffeta trimmed in blue. They also carried quaint old-fashioned bouquets, like that of the bride.

Mrs. Painter's gown was exceedingly handsome; it was of silver and white brocade charmeuse, elaborately trimmed in rare lace. The wedding presents were exceedingly handsome, and among them were many gifts to render attractive the hand, some home which the young people will occupy in Santa Cruz, on their return from their wedding trip.

The Painters have a most attractive home in the Santa Cruz mountains, near Santa Cruz, where they will spend the summer.

PARISIAN SOCIETY HAS MANY FADS

Bright women writing from Paris tell us that "society" always goes middle of the second act before the house is well seated. And they tell us also that even though it is summer, red has been smart for a long time, but the Parisienne seem to have suddenly developed a fondness for one particular shade, a peculiarly vivid geranium, and some of the loveliest evening gowns of the season are made wholly or partially of this color. The material usually selected is chiffon, which is invariably laid over white satin or white tulle. Oddly enough, in many cases the tops of the bodices are made of the red chiffon, with not so much as thread of white to soften the effect of the bright color against the flesh.

The summer races are now on, both in England and France and the most conspicuous note of color which has appeared at the recent races is a blue, which has thrown all other brilliant colors into the background—even the formidable yellows. This color is not new, having been used several seasons as trimming, but now it has been adopted for entire dresses and, what is more, is worn in broad daylight. Then it becomes a trying color, as the white of the eye is a complexion.

NEWS OF OAKLANDERS AND SUMMER RAMBLES.

The coming and going of friends is a theme of interest in the heart of June days. In England two charming women, Madame Bonnet and her sister, Gertrude Elliott, are receiving much attention this season. Both were Oakland girls, living in a comfortable but modest home in East Oakland, and both went at one time to school there. Now one is a rich and successful actress and one of the beauties on the stage. Gertrude Elliott is now Lady Forbes Robertson, by reason of the title recently bestowed on her husband. She is very popular in London society, and with her husband she is devoted to the cause of woman's suffrage.

Mrs. Edson Adams and Mrs. Oscar Long, with their daughters, have returned from Camp Ahwahnee in the Yosemite Valley, and both families are in their Piedmont homes.

The Misses Long will leave the first of July with their grandmother, Mrs. Regua, for Santa Barbara, where she spends the remainder of the vacation.

Mrs. Soule and her sister, Miss Carrie Bacon, have arrived for the summer and have opened their beautiful home "Thorhill" on the Linda Vista hills. They are receiving a warm welcome from their many friends here, who are delighted to see them home again after their long absence.

Douglas Soule, who is a student in the Harvard College of Law has come to the coast with his mother. They all enjoyed their Eastern winter very much indeed, and they were established in the old Longfellow home at Cambridge.

Mrs. George Greenwood, Mrs. Minor Goodall, and Mrs. Harry Knowles and their daughters are all established at Catalina Island, where they plan to spend the summer. They have been at Catalina before, and the life there in summer is most enjoyable. The Greenwoods have rented their home in the Santa Cruz mountains for the summer.

The Capwells have also rented for the summer, their home "Huckleberry Farm" at Brookdale. Mrs. Capwell and her daughters are in Southern California, and they will also go to Catalina Island before returning to Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Alexander spent some days at Del Monte during the recent tennis tournament. They are going to Los Gatos for the summer, and in their picturesque home there they will make their friends very welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Burnham spent some days in town recently. They have returned to their Sonoma home, and Mrs. Charles Bates and her children will spend the greater part of the summer with them.

Mrs. Percy Walker and her children are among those who will pass vacation days in the heart of the Santa Cruz mountains. The Walkers have an interesting home there, in which their friends are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Crane, with their daughter, Miss Helen Crane, and Carlton Crane Jr., are spending the summer in San Jose, where the Cranes have taken a home. They motor to many points of interest, and Miss Crane entertains her many friends in a happy and cordial fashion. Mrs. Crane gave a luncheon this week in her home at San Jose, among the guests from Oakland being Mrs. J. P. Meahan, Miss Pauline Kelly, and Miss Mollie Connors.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bull Pringle, who recently returned from the East, are spending the summer at Burlingame. Mrs. Pringle is the daughter of Captain and Mrs. McKittick (Mary Shafter), whose permanent home is in South America with her husband, Ernest Pringle, the well known artist.

of South America, and are now in Bolivia. Mr. Peixotto is sending his sketches to the Scribners who will later bring the serials out in book form.

The Peixottos have been great travelers, and have wandered far, their travels taking them off the beaten tracks, into lands picturesque and comparatively unknown.

Mrs. Davis Easterbrook, who has spent the past winter at the Hotel Oakland is now at Castle Crag, in the Sierra. She is with friends and they are enjoying very pleasant days. Mrs. Easterbrook motors a great deal, as motor trips in the Sierras are in many cases made very safe. There is an exceedingly fine road from Castle Crag to the McCloud river, built by Charles Wheeler, Thomas Williams, and Mrs. Hearst.

The road to Tahoe by way of Placerville is also a good road, and motor cars are to take tourists from Placerville to the lake this summer.

At Tahoe this summer will be Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kohl, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dean and Miss Helen Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Max Taft and Mrs. Clarence Shuev, Mrs. Haynes, Captain and Mrs. Clarence Kempf, Mrs. Brigham, Miss Brigham, Mrs. Edward McCutcheon, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schmiedel, Mr. Edward Greenwood, Mrs. Rosborough, Joseph Rosborough, Miss Josephine Helrichs.

hostess always during her father's command at the Presidio. It was the good fortune of Captain McKittick to raise the American flag in Cuba sixteen years ago. The McKitticks celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage last week by giving an elaborate dinner at Pebble Beach. Many handsome gifts of silver were sent to them.

Among the friends of the McKitticks on this side of the bay are Mrs. Isaac Regua and Mrs. Oscar Long. Mrs. A. N. Towne and Mrs. Clinton Worden will as usual spend the summer at Del Monte.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Sullivan (Gladys Wilson) also spent some days at Del Monte. They motored from Santa Barbara to Coronado, where they will spend the Fourth of July holidays. They have taken an apartment in San Francisco, where their future home will be.

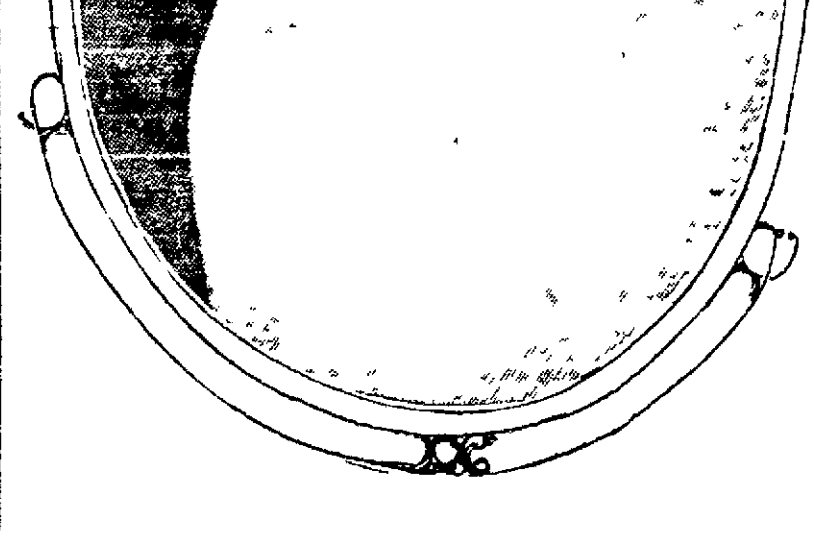

SOCIETY FOLK PLAN LONG MOTOR TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. George Friend, Miss Anne Spring, and Miss Katherine Bonsfield will leave early in July for a motor trip to Shasta county. They have planned an exceedingly fine itinerary and they expect to be away several weeks.

PICTURES IN THE MIDDLE.

Mrs. Joseph O'Hara, whose picture appears today in the Middle, was Miss Gladys Cronan before her marriage to the young man mentioned a week ago. They are upon their honeymoon in the south and will return to San Francisco for a short visit before going to the Hawaiian Islands, where Lieutenant O'Hara is stationed, to reside.

MRS. ROBERT CLELLAND, A BRIDE OF THE SPRING, WHO WAS MURIEL STEWART.—Webster photo

Rutherford and Floyd R. Gray, a young really man of this city, was recently announced. Miss Rutherford is an attractive girl whose personality has endeared her to a host of friends in the younger set.

One of the brides of the early spring season was Mrs. Robert Clelland, who was Muriel Stewart before her marriage.

Since the return from the honeymoon the attractive bride has been the motif for frequent entertaining in the younger set.

Miss May Raye was a hostess for a number of the younger set recently, giving them a jolly time at an originally planned Yama-Yama party.

Japanese lanterns were strung about the gardens of a quaint Japanese tea house in the center, and the guests strolled about the brilliantly lighted grounds between the dances and enjoyed a delightfully informal good time. Miss Muriel Stewart presided in welcoming the guests.

TO FETE BRIDE.

Mrs. Seyd Havens, who was pretty Sue Miller until her romantic marriage earlier in the week, will be the honored guest at a number of smart affairs when the young couple return from their northern honeymoon. Mrs. Frank C. Havens will open beautiful "Woodrow" for a large affair to welcome the latest bride in the city. Mrs. and Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown and her sister, Miss Ruth Saxon, have signified their intention to entertain for Mrs. and Mrs. Havens.

will also send out cards for a luncheon in her honor. The younger girl, with whom the former Miss Miller was a great favorite, will plan various more informal affairs for her.

SUMMER PLANS.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Lemke and Miss Emmet Lemke will leave for Napa Soda Springs on the first of July for a stay of several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. George Lemke to the Hawaiian Islands, and will occupy the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Lemke during the absence of the couple.

LEAVE FOR NORTH.

A party of Oaklanders sailed under the chaperonage of Mrs. John P. Cook, left this afternoon on the President for a trip to the north. MRS. SPRECKELS CLIMBS PEAKS OF YOSEMITE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Mrs. Claus Spreckels has proved herself to be a mountain climber of unusual endurance and nerve. With Mr. Spreckels, she has been visiting in Yosemite and her friends are wondering how she has the hardihood to climb one of the tallest peaks in the national reserve.

Mrs. Spreckels has always been fond of mountain climbing, but on the present outing excelled herself, attaining a height of 10,000 feet above sea level. When she had reached the apex she walked to the edge of the cliff and sat down on a jutting rock overlooking a sheer drop of 3,000 feet.

She is a well known and popular friend, and her friends and family were with her to witness her feat. Mrs. Spreckels laughed and proved herself unusually game by posing for a picture in her perilous position. The trip to Yosemite wound up an automobile journey begun at Coronado. Mr. and Mrs. Spreckels motored to the coast and after spending a day in the city, passed on to the mountains.

Alpine climbing may be fashionable. Its popularity is growing, but there are few young society matrons who care to walk to the edge of a precipice and look down at 2,000 feet of nothing but wind below them and eternal ice. It is not likely that Mrs. Spreckels' feat will be repeated by her associates.

It will be one of the more elaborate of the early fall weddings, and will take place in St. Paul's Episcopal church in the presence of several hundred guests. A reception at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hatch of Park View Terrace, will follow the ceremony.

Instead of a one color decorative scheme Miss Hatch is planning a delicate rainbow effect in the rows of the bridal attendants. Miss Margaret Mackay will be maid of honor, and will wear pale blue. Mildred Manuel, Miss Helen Hathaway and Miss Anna Auerbach will be the bridesmaids and will wear soft gowns of pale pink, yellow and green. John Hale will act as best man. Stetson is a graduate of the University of California and is connected with the municipal government as an electrical engineer. After a honeymoon tour the young couple will reside in Oakland.

LUNCHEON FOR BRIDE.

Mrs. Edward Barber, a bride of the season, will celebrate her wedding at her home across the bay next Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Charles Philip Boone, another charming bride, who was Miss Edith Benedict Smith of San Jose. About a score of the younger matrons and girls from both sides of the bay have been asked to the luncheon, which will be followed by a game of bridge. Mr. and Mrs. Boone have returned from their wedding trip to Tahoe and are now in Berkeley. They are planning to leave for New York en route to Europe about September and will spend six months in travel abroad.

WOMEN OF MYSTERY FOUND DEAD IN APARTMENT

New York Nurse Shoots Her Chum and Commits Suicide.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Here of solving the mystery of the murder of Catherine Lacey and the suicide of her assailant.

Two young nurses of the Montefiore Home for Chronic Invalids at Bedford Hills, whose bodies were found in the apartment of the Lacey girl yesterday, depends upon a letter now on its way to Mrs. William Lacey of Oswego, N. Y., the mother of the murdered girl.

The two were called the "women of mystery." When not on duty they were constantly together. About two weeks ago there was a violent quarrel. No one knew the cause, but some thought the smaller, assaulted her chum with her fists and beat her on the head. She was not able to work for a day. Shortly after that incident Miss Lacey asked Dr. Rosenberg to let her take her vacation at once instead of in August, as had been planned.

This morning when the two girls did not report for duty, the door of the room was opened and the bodies of the "women of mystery" were found. Miss Lacey had been shot in the back. Two Lacey girls had missed their mark. The bullets were found in the wall. The Lacey girl had fired a bullet into her own brain, and her body lay across that of her chum.

Late Thursday afternoon Miss Lacey gave one of the patients a letter addressed to her mother and asked that it be mailed and that Miss Lacey be kept in ignorance of it.

Steal Men's Styles

NEW YORK, June 28.—Women are stealing men's styles, or at least the names of men's styles for their fashions—witness the cuff shirt turned up around the bottom like a man's trousers and not much wider except for the cuff in front and a peg top skirt, which is designed to give the wearer room to sit down if not to walk.

The slash, which makes walking possible, is to continue, however, for designers from twenty-two of the thirty-four states represented at the National Ladies' Tailoring and Dressmaking Association, which opened its sessions here today, are in favor of it. Some of the skirts which will be shown have two slits. One of the double slit skirts, which comes from Chicago, has another innovation—a pistol pocket. There is a corresponding pocket pocket on the left possibly instead of a powder puff.

The convention, which, by the way, is entirely made up of men, will fight the latest Paris edict that skirts are to be from seven to ten inches from the floor. A large majority, however, including members from Boston, are in favor of light slit skirts.

In several suits deep slashes are filled with net corresponding with the color of the skirt; in others they open to show the petticoat color of the trimming on the gown.

WHERE FRIENDSHIP ENDS MAN'S COMING IS CAUSE

(By LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.)

(Copyrighted, 1913, by Laura Jean Libbey.)

Friendship's calm, sweet dream has faded. All its pearls have turned to dust. And its shining chain has rusted. Clouded over with dark distrust.

FRIENDSHIP between young girls is a dainty chain of roses which each firmly believes will last through all the years to come. With arms entwined about each other's necks, they sit and ponder to the other her innermost secrets. They read their love letters to each other, and their hearts and souls are bound together in a bond of love which is as strong as steel.

Such a friendship is usually too blissful to last. Its abrupt termination is often brought about by the appearance of a man.

This is the test. One chum may give up willingly all that she has in the world save love. It has been said that friendship is the most beautiful of all human relationships. It is the only one that is not based on self-interest. It is the only one that is not based on a common interest. It is the only one that is not based on a common goal. It is the only one that is not based on a common enemy.

One might preach the nobility of self-sacrifice all day long. When it comes to winning the heart of a young man there is no girl who will readily give up the hope of winning love for herself, that it may be laid at the feet of her friend. Neither holds out her hand to grasp and cling to the same time. They realize that they are drifting apart.

Very young girls are not apt to look at this matter as philosophically. They should. They should realize that if a girl is intended for her friend, she will be attracted to her and to no one else. Many girls are carried away by the mistaken idea that in love, in a case of friendship and no favor, that she has as much right to win him as her friend has. There is another side to the coin which is not so often seen. The girl who takes precedence in the admiration of the young man whom they have both met at the same time, the girl who sees that her attractions seem to be less than her friend's, seldom has the same confidence in herself ever after, even if she is not loved and the girl who does not become lovers as the time rolls on.

It is a sweet and beautiful trait in young girls to love each other dearly. They should realize that the friendship of a woman for a man should not be based on the appearance of a man on the scene. Two girls cannot both win the young man. There is always another nice young man in the background who is soon to make his appearance to claim the heart which Cupid has reserved for him. If the two girls could come together much disunity and unhappiness could be averted for the girls who were once friends. But as this cannot always be, a girl should understand this situation and not allow jealousy to enter her mind. The man who has no matrimonial intentions toward either is certainly a disturber of the peace when he favors one girl more than her friend. With either it might truly be said:

"How happy could he be with either. Were I either fair charmer away."

HE IS A WORKING CHAP.
"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 26, have lived here for three years now. While living here I've met several nice girls, one in particular whom I love very deeply. I think, however, that she doesn't care a cent for me. I'm sure she doesn't. I'm a chap and can't afford to take her around as much as some of her wealthier friends. When she goes out with me she does so seeking her affections or try to take her around more. You have helped so many people help me, because it is a serious question as I love the young man dearly. I am afraid you are a bit easily discouraged. Show the girl all the little things that make her love me and that count for more than a mere display of money. Don't spend any more money on the girl than you can actually afford. If she really cares for you, she will do it. There is nothing to be gained by accumulating debt. If her father does you are feeling that he really will discourage you as a suitor for her hand."

MEN ARE LOVE ADVICE SEEKERS.
"Dear Miss Libbey: Why is it that the men I read do not ask for advice and instruction in their love matters? Their path in matrimony less perplexing? Surely it is not that they use more judgment than we, but that they are more determined not to marry here and there to the man. "PERPLEXED."
Where did you get that idea? More than three-fourths of my letters are from men seeking advice in love matters. Marriage should mean as much to men as to women. Let the average man expect marriage to be a sort of a one-sided affair."

'FRAT' WITHDRAWS VARSITY CHARTER

Alpha Delta Phi Objects to the "Hebraic Element;" Wheeler Opposes Action.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Alpha Delta Phi fraternity has withdrawn the charter of its Manhattan chapter in the College of the City of New York, severing all relations between the college and the fraternity. The sole reason cited for this action was that in the institution "the Hebraic element is greatly in excess." The College of the City of New York was most severely criticised as lacking "fertility as a field for the Alpha Delta Phi." An attempt was also made to impeach the character of the Hebraic element in the city college.

Incessant by the action of the fraternity the alumni members of Manhattan chapter are withdrawing from the Alpha Delta Phi Club at 135 West Forty-fourth street. In efforts to frustrate the attempts to abolish the City College chapter, prominent alumni members received the support of many of the best known men in the Delta Alpha Phi, including President Hadley of Yale, President Butler of Columbia and the president of the University of California, President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California's reply met the race issue squarely. He said in part:

"It is a mistake to think of a single class, but that it should be representative of what is noble in all bloods and families that go to make up our nation."

EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother's results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the experience of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and happy.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (consultant) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

The Woman Who Arrives Nowhere

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyrighted, 1913, by Lillian Russell.)

A WOMAN called upon me a few days ago seeking some important information. Time was rather precious, but I granted her request for an interview.

Of course she started with the exclamation: "Well, Lillian! How do you do it?" "How can you work so hard?" "How do you keep in good voice singing and talking twice a day?" "Do you really do that exercise?" "Doesn't the makeup spoil your complexion?" "Don't you have to diet a lot to keep from getting fat?"

I was just preparing to answer the first attack and got as far as "Well, I will tell you," when a second fusillade of questions burst upon me as follows: "Do you really write all of those articles?" "My, I don't see how you ever have time!" "Is the recipe you give in the paper for cold cream really good?"

really sleep? I can see that you sleep well, for you haven't a line in your face."

"Doesn't that make-up you use on the stage hurt your skin? I suppose you use some special things you don't tell about in the papers?" "Well, I don't blame you; I would if I were you."

"How's your daughter?" "Does she look like you?" "I saw her on the stage once, but I did not notice how she looked; I was listening to her singing."

"O! I met one of your sisters once. She was at a federation of clubs meeting. I heard her speak. Does she look like you? I don't remember; she was so far away, you know; I only ran in and sat so far back I couldn't see."

"What is that you use on your nails to make them shine?" "My, but you are a wonder! You don't look a day over 25 as you sit there!"

"Did you see Bernhardt? Isn't she a wonder?" "Of course I don't speak French, so I don't know if she is a good actress or not. But I suppose she is, for she gets the money."

"Are you happy with your husband? Is he nice?" "We mustn't believe all the stories we hear, I suppose?" I made an attempt to put in a little answer here, when she began another attack.

"They say that you enamel your face, but I see that can't be true, for you are laughing, and if you used enamel on your face it would crack." "My, what people do say!"

"I am so glad I came to you for advice, for you look just the same off of the stage as you do on, and I didn't expect that." "Am I keeping you?"

"O, don't go out; I love to visit with you." "You must?" "O, there are so many things I want to ask you. May I come again some day?"

And I left her.

What she had in her mind originally to ask me I never heard. And she never got further than her own questions. She left me in just the same condition as she met me as far as she was concerned.

Such a woman stands still, while the one with decision of purpose gains knowledge.

Remember: Unanswered questions are shackles to progress.

same regimen or diet. Exercise will reduce one person and show no great effect on the other, unless it is combined with forced perspiration. Thousands of women go daily to the Turkish baths to reduce their weight by profuse perspiration. The Turkish bath has been much overdone and there is always a question of its being debilitating. For ordinary healthy women once a week is not too often to take a Turkish bath, providing one does not stay in the steam and hot room too long. The Turkish bath may have a great effect on you in reducing. That will reduce to some extent, but reduce some people more than others.

ANXIOUS: I am answering your questions in the order in which you asked them. It is not advisable to steam the face as it leaves it shell-shaken, yellow, and without elasticity. Dash cold water on the face after using the hot. Bay rum is good for the hair. It stimulates the oil glands to activity. Egg shampoos are good for the hair. Break a couple of eggs over the head and rub them well into the hair, then wash the hair with warm water and rinse thoroughly. Coconut butter is not the same as coconut oil. They are two different articles. Both are good for rounding out the throat.

'TRIBUNE' DAY TICKETS IN DEMAND

Thousands Crowd Main and Branch Offices for the "Slips of Joy."

Idora Park to Be Mecca for Crowds on Tuesday, July 1.

THE TRIBUNE tickets, admitting the people of four counties to Idora Park for TRIBUNE DAY, Tuesday, July 1, are the predominant note in the decorative scheme of homes and playgrounds today. Practically every child has one. They are even being traded for marbles, and all this morning a line of children was waiting in the TRIBUNE'S main business and branch offices for the slips of joy.

Today is the third day of distribution of TRIBUNE DAY passes. Hundreds of letters have come in bearing requests for tickets, guests from out of town particularly taking advantage of THE TRIBUNE'S offer to mail tickets to all applying for them and enclosing a stamped and addressed envelope. Men, women and children are eagerly seeking the tickets and a huge number have already been given out, with the rush still as strong as ever. The more tickets are given out, the greater the demand seems to be.

SUCCESS IS ASSURED.

Not only the main office of THE TRIBUNE, but the San Francisco and branch offices where tickets are being given out, are busily engaged in attending to the crowds who are applying for the tickets. The success of TRIBUNE DAY is now more than assured. The people of four counties—Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco and Solano—have been invited and are taking every advantage of the invitation. THE TRIBUNE'S guests will be out in force and will enjoy themselves to the fullest extent.

And tickets being given away in the main and branch offices admit to the big park. Once inside, the guests will be presented with the concession passes. Each guest will receive a set of concession passes. Only one set will be given each person. These will not be exchanged for admission tickets, but presented to persons. One person with several admission tickets will not be given a concession set for each. As about 50,000 people will attend on TRIBUNE DAY every effort will be made to avoid overcrowding and assure every guest all attractions.

ALL OF THEM HAVE 'EM.
The admission tickets are being given away all day and tonight at the following offices:

TRIBUNE main office, Eighth street, near Franklin.
Berkeley office, 2142½ Shattuck avenue.
Alameda office, corner Park street and Santa Clara avenue.
San Francisco office, 682 Market street.
Richmond office, 921 Macdonald avenue.

Next Tuesday is the day. Idora Park will be decked in its gayest and every provision for THE TRIBUNE'S guests is being made. Extra attendants will be in charge to facilitate the handling of the huge crowds which will enjoy the event. The concessions on the free list for THE TRIBUNE'S guests include the following:

THE TEASER.
MERRY-GO-ROUND.
MOUNTAIN SLIDE.
SHOOTING THE RAPIDS.
SOCIAL WHIRL.
TOBOGGAN.
SCENIC RAILWAY.
MOVING PICTURES.

ONLY TWO DAYS OFF.
TRIBUNE DAY is now just two days off. Sunday and Monday will elapse before the big event. The

WOMAN WRITES FOR SOBER HUSBAND

She Is Lonely, She Says, and Clerk Is Asked for Aid

Marriage License Clerk Mat Riley is wondering today whether he is only a county official, or in reality the manager of a marriage bureau, and his quandary refuses to flit away when he reads a letter from a woman in Petaluma.

The woman in Petaluma. The woman asks Mat to find her a husband, which would be a job in itself, as there are quite a few nice, eligible bachelors about the county clerk's office, but there are other conditions. The letter says: "Petaluma, June 16, 1913.

I hardly know where or what to say, as this is an unusual communication. I am alone and am lonely. So I am looking for a good man to be my companion, if I can find one that suits me. I am rather particular about his character and he must have a reputation for being sober. If you can find a man of this description would be much obliged, and if not no harm is done. My name is Mrs. L. Guernsey, 215 Liberty Street, Petaluma, Calif.

The letter of Mrs. Guernsey has made the rounds of all the offices connected with the court house and hall of records, but no anxious suitors have as yet volunteered to come to Riley's help. Must be disappointed the lonely woman? It seems almost brutal to write to her that no such man is available here, but unless some sober candidates comes forward soon such will have to be the answer.

CANINE MORTALITY GIVES UPWARD JUMP

Waterfront Strays Are Given Annual Poison Morsel

The canine mortality rate took a big jump upward this week when the annual poison feed of the water front dogs took place. Every year, for the past two years, little packages of Hamburg steak, in which cyanide of potassium has been concealed, have been placed about street corners, and every year, tempted by the succulent morsels, dogs have passed into the great beyond to grace the water front no more.

Several valuable dogs fell victims to the poisoners this year, and as a consequence the police will probe the matter. A valuable dachshund, owned by Colonel H. Bendel, and several cocker spaniels, Irish setters, and other blood animals, instead of the usual curs of low degree, fell victims, and their owners have complained to the police.

Heretofore no attention has been paid to the matter, as it is thought that it was the work of the canine nomads, consisting largely of stray dogs, along the wharves from Alice street to the foot of Broadway. Colonel Bendel's dog was saved by prompt attention. The others all died.

Race Horse Ruins Railroad Treasurer

CHICAGO, June 28.—Edwin F. Young, former treasurer of the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southeastern Railroad Company, pleaded guilty Friday to the embezzlement of $35,000 of the company's funds and was sentenced to an indeterminate term of from one to 10 years in prison.

A desperate effort by Young to retrieve his fortune by purchasing, training and backing a race horse was told by W. F. Peters, attorney for the railroad. Young refused to discuss his affairs, but Peters said that Young's confession to him was a vivid description of rapid living.

Young's entire assets, according to his own statement, are comprised in a race horse worth $1700. This is the animal Young hoped would win him money enough to put him on his feet again.

TRIBUNE'S treat and THE TRIBUNE wants to do it right. Every facility at the disposal of the park is pledged to make the day a success, and THE TRIBUNE assures its guests that there will be tickets for all. Next Tuesday is July 1, and that's TRIBUNE DAY. Get the tickets and have a good time.

It's free.

All are welcome.

AMBASSADOR FROM BRAZIL VISITOR HERE

DR. LAURO MULLER.

DR. MULLER GUEST OF MRS. HEARST

Dr. Lauro Muller, ambassador to the United States from Brazil, and one of the most distinguished statesmen in South America, arrived in Oakland last night on his way to San Francisco, accompanied by Third Assistant Secretary of State Dudley Field Malone, United States army and navy officers and several Brazilian officials.

A reception committee composed of Vice-President William T. Session of the exposition, Edward Rainey, representing Mayor Edolphus D. Schreyer, representing Governor Johnson, Major Sidney A. Cloman, Thorne, Major John M. Sullivan, Lieutenant Commander David Foote Sellers and others, met the distinguished visitor at the pier.

A troop of cavalry and a mounted artillery band met the ambassador at the ferry and escorted him up Market street to the Fairmont Hotel, where, shortly afterward, Mayor Ralph J. General Arthur Murray and Exposition President C. C. Moore called to pay their respects.

HELPED ABOLISH SLAVERY.

Doctor Muller made the slip to this country on the Brazilian dreadnaught Minas Geraes. He is a native of Germany, and, although having only a slight knowledge of English, speaks French, German and Portuguese fluently. He helped to abolish slavery in Brazil and was one of the signers of the constitution in the establishment of the republic of Brazil. He has had a brilliant career in the Brazilian parliament, and while in the service as minister of ways and communications in the cabinet took an active part in beautifying the city of Rio de Janeiro and in the construction of railways.

Executive heads of the Panama-Pacific exposition took Dr. Muller to the country today for a weekend stay after his long journey across the continent. The party was entertained at luncheon at "The Hacienda," Mrs. Phoebe Hearst's country home at Pleasanton, and motored from there to Santa Cruz, visiting at various points of interest along the route. At the beach resort the diplomat will be the guest of William T. Session, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and Charles C. Moore.

TO ATTEND BANQUET.

Dr. Muller will return to San Francisco Monday prepared for an arduous week of formalities and social functions in connection with the dedication of the site of the Brazilian building at the exposition, which will take place Tuesday afternoon. An expedition banquet will be given Monday evening in the St. Francis. Thursday a trip will be taken to Mt. Tamalpais.

In the party with Ambassador Muller and Assistant Secretary of State Malone were: Captain Antonio Sampaio, Brazilian naval aid; Captain Antonio da Fonseca, Brazilian military aid; Lieutenant Commander Roscoe C. Bulmer, U. S. N., American naval aid; Captain Le Vert Coleman, U. S. A., American military aid; J. F. de Barros Pimenta, second secretary of the Brazilian embassy in Washington; Maurice Nabuco de Rio de Janeiro, J. J. Dickinson of New York, Charles Lee Cooke of the state department, R. L. Jarvis, Bert L. Hunt and H. Y. Darnell.

VETERANS ARE GATHERING AT GETTYSBURG

Men of Blue and Gray Parade, Cheer and Sing in Fraternal Spirit.

Reunion at Battlefield Draws Thousands From Many States.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 28.—Although there were several prostrations yesterday, the extreme heat failed to dampen the ardor of the old soldiers here for the anniversary celebration next week.

Shortly after sunrise until late at night the streets of Gettysburg were crowded with the veterans from North and South. Some of them paraded, cheering and singing in fraternal jubilation with former foes, while others gathered in groups and recounted the stirring times of 50 years ago. Those overcome by the heat were treated at the emergency hospital of the state department of health and all are out of danger.

Veterans are arriving on every train and they are in town but a short time before a start is made for the big camp, the scene of which many have not viewed since the stirring days of the Gettysburg campaign. In spite of the heat yesterday, the temperature being 88 degrees, many of them walked over the entire area, and officials in charge said that the small number of prostrations demonstrated that the physical condition of the old soldiers was of the best.

HEALTH PRECAUTIONS TAKEN.

Elaborate preparations have been made to protect the health of the veterans while here. There are two large hospitals with a capacity of 1800 designed only for seriously ill persons. These are supplemented by three regimental hospitals, 14 Red Cross stations and 20 first aid stations located near the recreation centers of the camp. A complete ambulance battalion of the United States army, with 15 horse ambulances and two automobile ambulances, will carry the sick from the first aid stations to the hospitals. The provisional field hospital, besides wards and diet kitchens, has a complete operating room and the arrangements include everything down to the shower bath.

DEPENDS ON WEATHER.

"We hope the elaborate arrangements we have made will not be needed," said Major Huntington. "It will be largely a question of weather. If it is cloudy we may not be needed, but if it is hot and dry we may have a very serious case."

Lieutenant Colonel Bolivar Buckner, son of the ranking service officer of the Confederate army, who is assisting Major Normale, in command at the camp, today made public the number of old soldiers that each state expected to send to the reunion. Pennsylvania heads the list with 17,820; New York second, with 9939; and New Jersey third, with 1959. Massachusetts will send 1863; Virginia 1827; North Carolina 1215; Michigan 900; West Virginia 810; Indiana 666; Illinois 512. Other states range from Connecticut's 450 to 81 from Oregon and 35 from Idaho.

Pennsylvania and New York will occupy the entire northern section of the camp on both sides of Long Lane. Federal veterans from other states will be encamped between Seminary Ridge and Long Lane, while the wearers of the gray will occupy the site west of the flag.

WILLIE AND WHOLE FAMILY ARE READY FOR TRIBUNE DAY AND WHAT'S MORE THEY WON'T HAVE LONG TO WAIT

This was a strenuous morning for little WILLIE.

The first thing he did was to begin his letter to THE TRIBUNE.

It seemed awfully easy while he was in bed last night.

But somehow it looked altogether different this morning.

When his mamma called him to breakfast, an hour later.

He had gotten as far as "Dear Mr. TRIBUNE."

At the second call he came to "Sincerely yours."

His high brow all knitted up with deep lines.

And his coffee as cold as ice, of course.

But Willie was so preoccupied that he did not notice this.

In his "far-away" look, for Willie was thinking.

One by one he ate up all the duck-egg cakes.

Putting the maple syrup into his coffee by mistake.

But still he kept on thinking, with that far-away look.

With that far-away look.

Just as he had eaten the last peach in the dish.

And every other morsel that had been in sight.

That high-browed, far-away look disappeared.

And WILLIE went back to his letter with such new energy.

That he promptly wrote the ink

And stepped on Flo's tail once or twice in his haste.

Then he puckered up his lips with determination and began:

"My son Willie is very much worried about TRIBUNE DAY,

POLICE SEEK MISSING WOMAN

Mrs. Louis F. Carstens Drops From Sight: No Clue to Whereabouts.

Hospitals Searched for Traces of Pretty Book Agent.

Police of the bay region have been asked to assist in the search being made for Mrs. Louis F. Carstens, 626 Second street, who disappeared mysteriously yesterday. The woman was reported missing by her husband, who has been making a frantic search for his wife in Oakland and San Francisco.

Mrs. Carstens, who is a pretty woman about 25 years of age, has been engaged in selling a book entitled "Life and Labor" among union people. Yesterday morning she left her home to go to San Francisco, and failed to return. Carstens, who is a book agent with offices at 311 Fourteenth street, started out in search of his wife and traced her from place to place in San Francisco until he reached a laundry where she made several sales. There he lost her, and has been unable to find any further trace of her.

The woman is described as 5 feet 4 inches in height, weighing 150 pounds, a brunette, with black hair and dark blue eyes. She wore a light gray suit, white coat, white straw hat with black band and tan shoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Carstens have been married six years and have no children. Mrs. Carstens was in good health, and there were no marital troubles. The husband has made the round of their friends on both sides of the bay and has visited hospitals and police stations seeking his wife.

Atlantic Waters Press Against Canal Gates

PANAMA, June 28.—The large lower gates at Gatun are being put to the actual test of full pressure for the first time. The Atlantic waters have been allowed to flow in gradually against the gates and they reached the sea level yesterday afternoon. The engineers are watching the test with interest and they report the gates are firm and water-tight. The water is now at the 50-foot stage.

BIG CITIES SWELTERING; SUFFERING IS INTENSE

Little Relief in Sight and Mercury Is Touching High Places

CHICAGO, June 28.—A gentle breeze from the lake gave some relief today to the people of Chicago and inspired the hope that the heat wave had been broken.

There was a drop in temperature of three degrees between 9 o'clock this morning and noon. At the latter hour the official thermometer registered 85 degrees.

Three more deaths reported today brought the heat mortality total up to thirteen. Prostrations have been numerous and ambulances have been kept busy responding to calls. Charity organizations distributed tons of free ice in the tenement house districts today and every public bathing beach was crowded. Several deaths and scores of prostrations from the heat were reported.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—No immediate relief for the Middle West, but cooler weather today and tomorrow on the East. That was the weather bureau's only answer today to the numbers of heat prostrations reported during the last 24 hours.

"The weather is non-seasonable and is not breaking any records," said Forecaster Frankfield. "July is really the worst month of the year, though most people don't think so. It's mid-summer and everybody must expect mid-summer weather for a while."

CLEVELAND, June 28.—Last night was the hottest of the year and thousands fled to the parks and beaches for relief. General Lee's statue here, Mrs. Jessie Burbank, 33, mother of three children, committed suicide.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 28.—All Kansas and Western Missouri suffered from sweltering heat today. Starting at 82 degrees at 7 o'clock the thermometer here in four hours had climbed to 89.

CINCINNATI, June 28.—Three deaths and numerous prostrations early today marked what promised to be this city's hottest day thus far this summer. The resumption of the delivery of ice despite the fact that the strike continues probably prevented more fatalities.

DULUTH, Minn., June 28.—Street thermometers registered as low as 45 degrees at 8 a. m., but warmed up to 45 at 9 o'clock today, the coldest June 28 in years. Overcasts were in evidence and men and women in automobiles snuggled down in furs. A high wind off Lake Superior carrying in thick fog added to the chill.

DEATHS ARE MANY.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 28.—Five deaths and 40 prostrations were caused yesterday by the excessive heat which prevailed in Milwaukee.

The official figures showed the mercury at 85 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon but street thermometers registered from 100 to 115 in the shade. The excessive heat still prevailed last night.

Colonel A. G. Weimert, 70 years old, past commander-in-chief of the Wisconsin National Guard, died at his home in Milwaukee. He was a native of Germany and had been in the United States since 1870. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans.

Find Indian Squaw Entitled to Dower

SPokane, Wash., June 27.—Kempthorne, a squaw more than 50 years old, now living in the Colville Indian reservation in the northeastern part of this state, is entitled to share equally with the widow of John Enos, a well known stockman who died here in 1911.

The Enos estate is said to be worth upward of a quarter of a million dollars in ranch lands and Spokane real estate.

This was the verdict of a jury yesterday in the district court here, the jury finding that the squaw had been the wife of Enos. The evidence went to show that Enos had been the Indian woman in the early seventies, had children by her and then deserted her. Enos married his second wife, a Portuguese woman, in Boston in 1911, after bringing her from the Azores Islands.

DETROIT, Mich., June 28.—A dozen persons are prostrated by heat here today. The maximum temperature reported by the weather bureau was 85. The government thermometer on the street level registered 105.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 28.—Mrs. Arthur Kulick, wife of a farmer residing ten miles south of this city, died from heat late yesterday.

HOTTEST OF YEAR.

ST. LOUIS, June 28.—This city and the State in general experienced today the hottest weather of the year. The temperature reaching 85 degrees at 4:30 p. m. No rain was reported from any part of the State. The minimum temperature here was 78 degrees at 8 a. m. Several prostrations were caused by the heat.

HARVESTING SUSPENDED.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 28.—Today was the hottest day of the year throughout Kansas and in this part of Missouri. At Great Bend, where the mercury reached 102 in the shade, harvesting was suspended.

In Barton county, Kansas, the hands left their work. A number of points reported horses overcome in the fields. Johnlin, Mo., reported 140 degrees the hottest record made for June in Southwest Missouri.

The mercury reached 98 in Kansas City, with six prostrations.

RAINS ARE HEAVY.

SALT LAKE, Utah, June 28.—The record for total precipitation for the month of June in Utah was broken when 2.72 inches was recorded here last night with the rain still falling and more predicted. In contrast to the hot weather east the last half of the month has registered some of the lowest June temperatures in the history of the local weather bureau.

Rain and snow continued to fall all over Utah today and overcasts were in order. In Salt Lake the temperature was 68 degrees, 23 below normal. Snow storms and freezing temperatures were reported from the higher altitudes.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall are tired of the "glare and glitter" of one of Washington's fashionable hotels and now are looking about for a house in which to make their home for the next four years. They have found the job of house-hunting not an easy one, for the Vice-President is understood to be firm in his refusal to pay more than $2000 a year rent, the figure tacitly agreed upon by President Wilson's official family as enough to expend for a place of abode.

STOCK MARKET
TRADE IS DULL

Prices Almost Stationary at the Opening; National Railways of Mexico Rises Point.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Prices barely moved at the opening of the market today. There was little business on Wall Street and fluctuations of stock prices were limited to a few points. The one exception was National Railways of Mexico, which rose a point and a half. The market closed firm. News from Washington that the President was awaiting in preparation of the Harbison disquisition plan, and that the plan probably would be presented to the court Monday stimulated stocks strongly in the last hour of trading.

CHICAGO WHEAT
PRICES HARDEN

Suspension of Trading by Important Firm Tends to Lessen Offerings.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Suspension of trading by a fairly important firm that has been on the market since the opening of the market today, and the fact that the market was a-waiting in preparation of the Harbison disquisition plan, and that the plan probably would be presented to the court Monday stimulated stocks strongly in the last hour of trading.

INFLUENCES ON MARKET SLIGHT

New Issues of Securities Are Brought Out During the Week.

NEW YORK, June 28.—After a substantial rise in stocks on the first two days of the week, the market today was a-waiting in preparation of the Harbison disquisition plan, and that the plan probably would be presented to the court Monday stimulated stocks strongly in the last hour of trading.
